I have never really understood why so many people knock Whispering Angel Rosé. This pioneering winery raises the bar every year and this newly released 2023 is sensational. Already open and alluring, '23 is a precocious vintage which (for once) will hit its peak this summer and no doubt hold for a year or two after. Rose petals, rhubarb and pomegranate lead the perfume and a sensual and succulent palate follows, topped with teasing, palate-pinching acidity. Don't knock it until you have tasted it.

A silky, seductive and saline Côtes de Provence rosé with aromas of small berries, red currants and salt. It's medium-bodied, succulent, fresh and playful, with a caressing texture and a vivid, saline finish. Drink now.
